Hours of the Poll's

Hower of the Poll's

by Leven Roker

It was a dieara day in 1996 The sing was overest and it was showing brainly and the trib were mathing showing them in a sing around in the snow shall stepped and workes but having around in the snow shall see steps and workes but name on the wall. Solvenly, Alma had that sensation name on the wall. Solvenly, Alma had that sensation of being watched. She to reflect and saws a cloth in a shop condow that perfectly resembled her.

a shop condow that perfectly resembled her.

the front of the shop resembled as creepy, gothic lectrof a wide open mouth II looked as though it was takenous for children. Alma excitedly three to two shops into when it woold not open. She walks off slowly when the deer mystericosty opens as though welcoming him inside.

Alma ham. High the is allowed in all deather.

Alra, happy that she is allowed in, accidently Steps on another dol. She bends down and toris the doll operand & Suddenly, the doll movezooms to the door and tires to escape the shop.
Alma Shrags it off thinking the doll is sost opining in a fandom direction. The doll then zoons up to the top shelf of the old victorian Bodishelf which had some war and tear on it with some scrutches. Alra didn't teatise that the was a fatal mistake to leach up and grab the Everything went plack and Alma felt as though she had gone through a plack hole. She could have gonethe love sounds line goneshes and tell electricity roming through har her easient lookes as through the course looking through abottle. Alma felt featful as she could not move. She felt trapped line she was in an eternal prison.

As she looted account, she tealized that all the other dolls were looking at her and realized that these dolls were all the other children. She saw another doll shas sat upon the table, awaiting it's next victim!

A few noors later, Alma and the other dolb hard a loud waiting sound. It sounded like a sirn and then she saw the lights. Alra tealized it was a folice car and hur and the other dolls tried to scream for help but couldn't. Two police Min searched the not couldn't the top who costed dead...
